

Young OR Day

On 18 November 2024, the Dutch OR society board organizes the annual Young OR Day at the Port of Rotterdam! This event aims to bring together young professionals and academics in the field of Operations Research.

The day will include several presentations, featuring an introduction to the Port of Rotterdam and their activities, along with a presentation from a more academic perspective. The most exciting part is a boat tour to the nearby port! This tour includes short pitches on current projects by the Port of Rotterdam that focus on Operations Research and Data Science. You can read more about the different departments on the following webpages:
